

Panisa Vishuphong

Program in Philosophy, Politics and Economics,
College of Interdisciplinary Studies, Thammasat University
(Tha Prachandra Campus), Thailand
Tel: 02 - 6132864
E-mail: vpanisa@gmail.com

Education

PhD Candidate	Present
Graduate School of International Development, Nagoya University, Japan
Research Student	2009
Graduate School of International Development, Nagoya University, Japan
Master of Arts (Economics) (English Program)	2007
Thammasat University, Thailand
Bachelor of Arts (Economics)	2002
Thammasat University, Thailand

Research Experiences

Period of Assignment:	2011-2012
Employer/Funded:	Nagoya University, Japan (JSPS Grants-in-Aid for Scientific Research (A))
Position:	Research Assistant
Project Description:	Controlling the Impact of Globalization on the Poverty-Growth-Inequality
Triangle:	An International Comparative Study
Period of Assignment:	2011-2013
Employer/Funded:	Nagoya University, Japan (JSPS Grants-in-Aid for Scientific Research (A))
Position:	Research Assistant
Project Description:	Thailand's Higher Education Strategy: Aims To Improve the International Status toward Integration into ASEAN and Mass Higher Education

Period of Assignment: October 2009-February 2010
Employer/Funded: Nagoya University, Japan
Position: Research Assistant
Project Description: An Empirical Study on the Implementation of the National Tests in the Basic Education Reform in Thailand

Period of Assignment: October 2008-January 2009
Employer/Funded: Thammasat University (The Thailand Research Fund)
Position: Research Assistant
Project Description: Flexibility Mechanisms of Post Kyoto-2012 Implications for Economic Measures in Thailand

Period of Assignment: November 2005-June 2007
Employer/Funded: King Mongkut University of Technology North Bangkok (Ministry of Energy)
Position: Economist
Project Description: Economic and Financial Feasibility Studies of Wind and Small-Hydro Power in Thailand. A Study of Wind Resource Micrositing.

Teaching and Working Experiences

Period of Assignment: April 2008 - September 2008
Employer: Bank of Thailand
Position: Analyst, Prevent Thai Baht Speculation Team, Financial Market Division, Bank of Thailand (The BOT Talent's Opportunity Program)

Period of Assignment: April 2006 – February 2007
Employer: Rachabhat Thonburi University, Thailand
Position: Part-time Lecturer
Responsible subjects: Business economics (Undergraduate program)
Macroeconomics (Undergraduate program)

Period of Assignment: June 2005 – November 2005
Employer: Thammasat University, Thailand
Position: Teacher Assistant
Responsible subjects: Macroeconomics and Microeconomics (Graduate Program) Monetary economics and Macroeconomics (International Program)

Publication

- 2014: Vishuphong, P.(2014) “Rethinking the Relationship between International Trade and Environment: Thailand as a case study, Forum of International Development, Vol. 45-4

Presentation at academic conferences

- 2013: “Rethinking the Role of International Trade and Environment: An Application to Thailand”, the 12th International Conference of the Japan Economic Policy Association, Sapporo University, Japan
“Impacts of Rice Price Intervention on Thailand Economy: A CGE Approach”, the 6th Thailand-Japan International Academic Conference, Osaka University, Japan (Co-author)
 - 2011: “Trade Liberalization and Domestic Policy Responses: A Case of Thailand”
The 22nd National Conference of Japan Society for International Development, Nagoya University, Japan
 - 2010: “Low Carbon Society: from Japan’s experience to Thailand”, Rethinking: Japan Thailand Mekong Relations, Chiang Mai University, Thailand
 - 2009: “R&D and Trade of Thailand”, the 2nd Thailand-Japan International Academic Conference Integrated Research for the Sustainable Development”, Kyoto University, Japan
 - 2008: “The Role of Research and Development (R&D) on Export performance: A Study of Manufacturing Firms in Thailand”, Seminar on Technology and Economic Development, Thammasat University, Thailand
-